Julian Barnard 23/10/16

[Answering these questions fully will require honesty and vulnerability but, knowing you are with family in a confidential setting, please be encouraged to listen to each other and not brush off or jump on someone's sharing, whether it is seemingly big or small. Thank you.

- Where do I go for comfort when things don't go my way?
- Is there a past bad experience that I use as a security blanket to block out God and my church family?
- What practical steps could I take to be more hopeful about the future?
- Read Psalm 130 together and share which verse is the most significant to you
- Pray for one another
